

The visual mind NEVER sleeps.

If our eyes have nothing to look at, our mind will wander off.

Then again, if we do have something interesting to look at, our mind can stay focused forever.