Joseph Campbell, curator of myth.

Myths come down to this:

X: "A hero ventures forth from the common world into a world of supernatural wonder."

Z: "The hero comes back to the common world with the power to bestow boons on his fellow man." 1

Y: "Fabulous forces are encountered and the hero wins a decisive victory."